

Briand Fails To Secure Statement From Envoys On His Army Cut Ideas

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—The delegation of the five powers discussed the French attitude toward the armament today, but no definite declaration of policy resulted from their deliberations.

Name of the powers, it was understood, presented any proposal looking toward a concrete pronouncement supporting the French attitude toward any reduction as outlined in the full conference in plenary session Monday by Premier Briand.

Premier Briand, attending his last meeting of the armament group before his departure for France, made a brief presentation of the exact position of his government, and it was said that a general discussion followed along the lines of that in which the powers expressed general appreciation of the French position at Monday's session.

The debate led the delegates into a consideration of specific problems of land armament and it was decided to appoint sub-committees to deal with such subjects as airplanes, poisonous gases and other auxiliary means of warfare.

After the two hour and a half session was over, the French premier, despite the failure to make a joint declaration of policy, expressed general satisfaction with the direction the discussion had taken.

It was also indicated by the French delegates that M. Briand would return to France confident that his nation's attitude had the sympathetic understanding of the other national groups and that France had nothing to fear from subsequent negotiations on land armaments.

The following communiqué on the meeting was issued:

"The committee on the subject of the limitation of armament met at the Pan-American building at 10:30 this morning. All the members were present except Baron Shidehara and Sigurd Meier.

"After a general discussion of the subjects relating to land armament and war agencies of warfare, there were referred to the sub-committees consisting of the heads of the delegations with instructions to bring in an order of procedure with regard to these subjects and with power to appoint sub-committees to deal with the questions relating to poisonous gases, air craft and the rules of international law."

Heads of delegations of the five powers agreed to meet later in the day to form sub-committees and to consider duties of the sub-committees.

Harding Signs Anti-Beer Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 23.—The anti-medical beer bill was signed today by President Harding.

Signature of the bill on which compromise action was completed last Friday automatically closed the gap in the nation's prohibition law revealed last March by Attorney General Palmer's opinion that there was nothing in the Volstead act to preclude the prescription of beer as medicine.

Prohibition advocates in congress since after publication of Mr. Palmer's ruling, evolved the bill, which in a somewhat changed form was today signed by the president. Anti-prohibitionists, principally in the senate, made a determined fight with the result that final legislative action was not off for several months.

Temporary officials because of the pending legislation, withheld issuance of regulations making prescription of beer possible until last month. Since then regulations were issued about half a dozen times, but owing to the numerous changes made necessary in the act, it is not believed that beer has been prescribed as medicine.

The bill signed today, in addition to changing medical beer, provides that more than one-fourth gallon of beer, liquor, or various spirituous liquors, shall be considered as one quart.

SEIN FEIN PARLEYS RESUMED IN ENGLAND

LONDON, November 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—The first formal conference between representatives of the government and of the Sinn Fein since the meetings between British cabinet members and the Ulster representatives was held in Downing street today. Prime Minister Lloyd George, Viscount Birkenhead, the lord Chancellor, met Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins, the Sinn Fein delegates, who were accompanied to the prime minister's official residence by Eamon J. Duggan.

The government at today's conference put before the Sinn Fein various alternative proposals for meeting Ulster's objection to the proposed all-Ireland parliament as well as a suggestion that Ulster be left temporarily as she is, while the rest of Ireland received local autonomy which would make its position less than that of Ulster.

The Sinn Fein publicity department, however, declares the Sinn Fein can consent to none of these plans. The all-Ireland parliament, it declares, must be established at the outset and not postponed for any term of years. It likewise insists that the parliament must be so constituted that Ulster shall not have more than her proportional representation in the body.

The Sinn Fein objects strongly to any proposal which would leave Ulster or any part of it outside the Irish system. Ulster objects to any all-Ireland parliament and refuses to abandon its representation in the imperial parliament. It would only discuss an all-Ireland parliament, it is declared, on the condition that the six counties had in such a parliament the same representation as the remaining twenty-six counties. Thus, tomorrow, it appears, Mr. Lloyd George will have to inform Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, of the Sinn Fein's refusal to concede this point.

Sir James has to have met the British premier today, but the Ulster premier's indisposition caused the postponement of the conference, which now is expected to take place tomorrow.

Lima Police Chief Is Suspended

LIMA, O., Nov. 23.—With the "suspension and removal" of Chief of Police O. J. Roush, announced by Mayor E. A. Burkhardt last night on a report filed by a special commission investigating the affairs of Roush's office, involving charges of dishonesty, immorality, drunkenness, extortion and appropriation of liquor, Captain M. E. Lawson automatically became chief of police. Roush vacated his position at 11 o'clock last night. The deposed police head will vigorously fight the charges that will be laid before the civil service commission by Mayor Burkhardt and will attack the right of two members of the board to sit in the case. The charges against Roush were originally made by F. W. Zedts and the case was presented by H. L. Downing as Zedts' attorney. Both are members of the civil service board. The third member is E. W. Durbin, son of State Democratic Chairman W. W. Durbin.

BLOODY RIOTING IN BELFAST

BELFAST, November 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Belfast's long list of fatalities as the result of factional rioting began to grow early today, one victim being added almost at the outset to the thirteen killed in outbreaks attending the assumption of governmental powers by the new Ulster parliament yesterday.

There was comparative quiet in the city after midnight and the day opened quietly, but in view of last night's events, little hope was entertained that this quietude would be enduring. Fears of further trouble were realized by the time activities were on in Dock street. A foreman who was engaged laborers there for the shipyard, was picked off by a sniper, and dropped dead on the spot.

Meanwhile, precautionary measures for safety were being taken by the working population, workmen's cars in the early hours proceeding without lights so that they might have better chances of reaching their destinations without casualties.

LONDON, November 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Rioting, which began in Belfast Sunday, had its climax yesterday in a state of shooting, bombing and turmoil approaching civil war. It is declared the disorders were planned to coincide with the assumption of power by the government of Ulster by the northern parliament.

Dispatches to the London press from Belfast place the blame, according to the sympathy of the respective newspapers. However, while it seems established that the Sinn Feiners were responsible for the bombing of a tram car full of shipyard workers late in the afternoon, and the consequent death of three persons and injury to thirty, the various accounts of the day's disorders suggest that the aggression on the whole was reciprocal and due to the ever-existing rancor between the Nationalists and Orangemen.

The total casualties in the series of outbreaks up to midnight last night, stood at 13 persons dead, with more than fifty seriously wounded. In the hospitals, scores of other persons less seriously injured were treated at their homes.

The entire force of soldiers and police in Belfast is said to be unable to cope with a situation such as arose yesterday and the military commander is reported to have announced that if the disorders continued the curfew hour will be advanced in the disturbed areas so as to forbid use of the streets after 8:30 p. m.

Mrs. Poppe held the wheel of the vessel while the men fought on the deck. Howell with a knife, her husband with a pistol, Captain Poppe said. She kept the schooner on its course, the negro crew meantime grouped on another part of the deck, offering no help. Mrs. Poppe has sailed with her husband four years. Howell was shot in the back. He was at the city hospital today under police guard.

Business Condition In Ohio Better

COLUMBUS, O., November 23.—Industrial and business conditions in Ohio are improving gradually, according to reports received by Percy B. Tellow, director of industrial relations and regional director for the national conference on unemployment. Although the reports from all parts of the state show improvement, Tellow said, there is no great increase in employment at any one point but a gradual betterment of conditions in all sections.

The worst situation in the state, Tellow said, was in the Harding Valley coal fields, where there is considerable unemployment among miners. Needs of the miners, however, are being cared for locally, he said, and there have been no requests for charity. Fifty percent of the bank deposits in this district had been withdrawn, he declared, in an effort to weather the storm.

A total of 12,293 persons were given employment during October in seven cities of the state from which statistics were received, Tellow announced, declaring that among other cities, Canton, Youngstown and Hamilton had shown notable increases in employment, recently.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., November 23.—Private Wasserman, United States marine corps, guarding Baltimore and Ohio mail train Number 9, from Washington to Pittsburgh, early today near Washington Junction, Maryland, discovered two men at the door of a mail car. He fired on them with his shotgun. One man dropped off the train and the other swung out on the hand rail of the car. He later was captured and brought to jail here.

According to Captain Herbert Hardy, commanding the postal guard in the Pittsburgh district, Private Wasserman reported to him that soon after the train left Washington that he thought he saw some one on top of one of the mail cars. He gained an advantageous position, and swept the top of the car with fire, but did not know whether he had hit any one as the train was in motion.

A little later, Captain Hardy said, Wasserman saw two men on the platform of a mail car, and he asked one of the clerks to open the door. This he did, and Private Wasserman fired. One of the men disappeared and the other swung himself out from the platform and clung to the hand bars on the side of the car. The marine went after him and brought him unharmed into the car. He was brought to Pittsburgh with the train, and turned over to the authorities.

Captain Hardy questioned the prisoner when he arrived in Pittsburgh, and said the man told him he was a mechanic from Lackawanna, N. Y., although he had been employed in Buffalo.

Recently he went to Philadelphia, the captain said, and while there joined an organization known as the "International Association of Migratory Workmen." He had no money, Captain Hardy said the man told him, and with a companion set out to make their way to Pittsburgh, and were riding on the mail train when seen by Private Wasserman.

Captain Hardy was unable to say whether the men intended to try and hold up the train, but said the story of the prisoner and the story of Private Wasserman conflicted.

"There may be an inquiry into the shooting," said Captain Hardy, "but I hardly think so, as the guard was under strict orders to shoot first, and ask questions afterward. Manifestly the men had no right on a United States mail train."

Verdict For Defendant

It required a little more than a half hour for a jury in Common Pleas court Tuesday to return a verdict in favor of the defendant in the personal injury damage suit of David E. Altman against James C. Davis, former director general of railroads.

Both sides waived argument and the case went to the jury following Judge Thomas' general charge.

Altman claimed he was injured while employed at the N. & W. shops at East Portsmouth on Nov. 7, 1919, when a heavy load fell on him while it was being wheeled across a network of tracks in the railroad yards. He claimed his right leg was injured and that it resulted in the member being amputated a few weeks later. He said seeking $25,000 for the injury. The defense made general denial and for other defenses set up the claims of contributory negligence and assumption of risk, besides contending that the injury was the approximate cause of the leg. Evidence was introduced by the defense showing that the plaintiff had suffered for several years from a diseased bone in the limb and that his general health had improved since the amputation.

Attorney B. F. Kimble, for the plaintiff, promptly gave notice of the filing of a motion asking for a new trial. The defense was represented by Attorneys Dannon and Dannon.

Nearly Everyone Abuses His Eyes

Either they are overworked or they do not get the prompt help of an Optometrist when really needed. Normal eyes (which are exceedingly rare) require a certain amount of rest during the 24 hours, and abnormal eyes should be assisted by glasses which remove the abnormalities. She Gives You Feet Hints

By NEA Service
NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Want pretty feet? Here's the advice of Miss Lillian Barnes, who has them:
"I spend nearly all my time in my bathing suit. So my feet are bare and they stay just like a baby's, saving me lots of aches and pains."
"Even when dancing I don't wear tight shoes. They make my feet feel as if they were bound with red-hot iron."

$126 EXTRA EGG PROFIT A MONTH

Mrs. Ropp Gets 114 Eggs a Day Instead of 25. Figure It Up.

"I have 200 hens, including late pullets not old enough to lay, and had been getting 25 to 30 eggs a day. Then I tried Don Sung and am now getting 107 to 114 eggs a day."—Mrs. E. B. Ropp, Littleton, Ind.
This increase of 7 dozen a day in the middle of winter, at 60c a dozen, makes $126 extra income per month. Don Sung for her 200 hens cost about $2. It paid her, and is guaranteed to pay you. Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded. Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health and makes her stronger and more active. It is guaranteed to get the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather.
Don Sung can be obtained promptly from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or send 50c for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 214 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Satisfied With Princess Betrothal

LONDON, November 23.—The morning newspapers express satisfaction at the betrothal of the Princess Mary to an Englishman and equally approve her choice of a husband in the Viscount Lascelles. It is emphasized that there would have been general disappointment if she had married a member of foreign royalty and thus have left England, where she is universally popular.
Her choice, says one newspaper, "will suit the democratic and romantic instincts of the British people and the modern views of monarchy in an age when the dynastic principle is under reconstruction. The betrothal of the princess makes it easier to believe that the Prince of Wales in his turn will make a marriage which will appeal to the same romantic and democratic sentiments of the nation."
This is typical of many of the comments.

Prisoners Rush Guards During Fire

GALWAY, IRELAND, November 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Forty political prisoners confined in the prison here rushed the warders today while a fire of uncertain origin was blazing in two sections of the structure. The men seized the keys and barricaded themselves with six warders in another part of the prison.
The fire was brought under control, but later a desperate struggle occurred between the rebellious prisoners and their custodians in which five policemen and five prisoners were injured.

"Twin Beds" At Sun Theatre

An audience of gratifying proportions at the Sun theatre last night manifested its undivided approval of that ever-welcome and ever-humorous classic of bedroom farces, "Twin Beds". In spite of its increasing longevity this merry conception of mirth and satire seems just as fresh and sparkling as when it made its first appearance in Cincinnati.
New properties and a new star add to this air of freshness. The star, Elaine Ivans, is a graduate from the ranks of motion picture actresses, and as a "find" of D. W. Griffith. She is pretty, clever and vivacious—three absolute requirements for success in a burlesque.
This is not a moving picture or a burlesque.

Stone Company Locates Here

A stone building 60 feet by 100 feet, formerly part of the old Spring Lane distillery will be the home of the Reinert Cast Stone Company that is to locate in Portsmouth in the very near future. The property is now owned by the Bannons and is west of the Reliable Engine and Tractor Company's plant back of Hempstead hospital.

The building already on the ground is suited to the workings of the new company headed by P. J. Reinert. The company makes best stone that is used any place stone is used. The firm controls all the patents on its special machinery and after locating here expects to expand its business. The natural resources of this section and this city as a river shipping point played a big part in helping the company make a decision to come to Portsmouth from Detroit. The machinery is now being dismantled and crated for shipment to Portsmouth.

THE MOVIES

The Biggest Double Program We Have Ever Offered Starts Tomorrow, Thanksgiving Day, for Three Days, Matinee and Night with Doris May in Her Big Joy Picture, "The Foolish Age" and Larry Semon, the Screen's Funniest Man in a New Comedy, "The Bell Hop." Come and Enjoy the Holiday with Us. We Positively Guarantee Your Entertainment. Don't Forget the Matinee with Full Orchestra. Prices 10 and 20 cents.

Note—Shows start at 1:30; 3:15; 6:00; and 9:15. Doors open 1 p. m.

An exquisite touch of humor and heart interest plus swift action and a theme that will appeal to all classes of theatergoers makes "The Foolish Age" Doris May's first starring vehicle for R-C Pictures one of the really big attractions of the new year to date. It will be screened for the first time at the Eastland Theatre where it will begin an engagement of three days to-morrow.

"The Foolish Age" marks the debut of Miss May as a full fledged star—a star in her own right. It will be the first of a series of high comedy productions in which this personable young woman will appear under the auspices of R-C Pictures. Her first vehicle was written especially for Miss May by Hunt Stromberg and personally supervised by him, too, and without the slightest exaggeration it may be said that it touches a very high plane of excellence as to story, direction and personality of the star herself. The story fits Miss May as snugly as a new glove.

Not the least interesting feature of the story is the idea upon which it is based. It is both novel and timely. Miss May, for instance, is Margie Carr, daughter of a wealthy father who insists that she marry a young man of wealth and social position like herself. Margie, however, doesn't intend to have her marriage regulated by dollars and cents. Instead she evolves a big idea and begins at once to put it over. She decides to uplift the poor and downtrodden—to go into the slums and help the denizens of those districts to see the light. And she gets right to work, enlisting the aid of a group of exceedingly rough young men to help her out. This of course starts the fun, which comes fast and furiously thereafter.

Tonight Is Your Last Chance to See Beautiful Elaine Hammerstein in Her Latest and Greatest Picture, "Handcuffs or Kisses," at the Eastland Theatre—Don't Let This Good Play Go By Without Seeing It—Remember Our Daily Matinees—Prices 10 and 20 Cents.

PROGRAM:

A—"The Wanderer"—A Redefinition of the word.
B—Harold Lloyd in "Crack Your Heel"
C—Seven Snapshots—the stars as they are at home.
D—Selznick presents Elaine Hammerstein in "Handcuffs or Kisses."

No picture in which Elaine Hammerstein has appeared has received a more complete vote of approval than did her latest Selznick Picture, "Handcuffs or Kisses," which last night began a three day engagement at the Eastland Theatre. A fast moving, actionful story with intense dramatic situations, good direction, strong support and realistic scenic effects, many of which were massive studio sets, all contributed to a success that was complete from beginning to end.

The story was written by Thomas Edgewood and first appeared in "Young's Magazine." It deals with life in a girl's reformatory and the fiction piece closely resembles some of the actual happenings that have transpired at Bedford Reformatory and other large institutions.

MR. AND MRS. CARTER DE HAVEN in "THE GIRL IN THE TAXI"

If You Want to Enjoy a Good Hearty Laugh After Your Thanksgiving Dinner, You Want to Go to the Lyric Tomorrow to See "The Girl in the Taxi" One of the Season's Best Comedies.

What promises to be one of the best farce comedies yet produced will be shown at the Lyric for three days starting tomorrow (Thanksgiving). It is the latest Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven production, "The Girl in the Taxi," a First National attraction, which follows in the wake of the stars' previous farce comedy "Twin Beds." The story is an adaptation of the famous musical comedy stage success by Stanislaus Strang and is directed by Lloyd Ingraham.

According to advance reports, the screen version of "The Girl in the Taxi" is one continuous round of laughter. In its many mirth provoking situations it is said to reveal a veritable deluge of wholesome humor, far more provocative of laughter than its stage presentation.

The interest of the story centers around Bertie Stewart and Mignon Smith, played respectively by Mr. and Mrs. Carter DeHaven. Bertie's penchant to embarrass people in embarrassing situations serves to convince his stern parent that he is not the molly-coddle he feared, he was. First crack out of the box he steals his father's best clothes and paws them. Then he hides in a taxicab hired by a beautiful young lady, and finally he enmeshes a group of his father's friends in a situation bordering on insanity. How he finally saves the day for them all, and in the process earns a laurel wreath from his stern parent, is said to afford Mr. DeHaven an unusual opportunity to reveal his ability as a farceur of the first magnitude.

As the supporting cast are King Haggott, Grace Curran, Olls Harlan, Tom McGuire, Margaret Campbell, Lincoln Plumer, Freya Sterling and John Gough.

THEATRICAL

"Twin Beds" At Sun Tonight

That life in a crowded apartment house is a fertile field for farcial complications, having not only the metaucholy charm of familiarity to many sufferers who are forced to live it, but the exciting appeal of continuous and unexpected happenings to those who live it with a sense of humor—and those who look on, has been established to the final word by Margaret Mayo and Salisbury Field with their delicious farce, "Twin Beds," which opened a two day engagement at the Sun last night. The good sized audience was kept in an uproar all evening by the solid humor on which the story is based.

"Twin Beds" will be repeated for the last time tonight, starting at 8:15 o'clock. All seats reserved.

Big Holiday Show At Sun

Dear Dolly—Will you please print in your column how many miles the Panama canal zone is from here and also the Hawaiian Islands.

BLUE EYES
The Panama canal is about 2300 miles and Hawaii about 4450 miles.

Dear Dolly—Do you think we will ever get rid of moonshine in this town. The whole place is full of it, and my home is no exception. As long as men can get it they will get drunk. Do you think if I would make a trip to Columbus and see the governor, I could get him to clean up this town. If I thought I could get him to do this I sure would make the trip.

TIMES READER
If you called on the governor he would probably send you back to the city and county officials and tell them to round up the bootleggers. I think you are exaggerating things a bit when you say the town is full of it and men will get drunk as long as they can get it. There are hundreds of men in this town who never tasted moonshine, and perhaps hundreds who have never even seen the stuff. If you can't do anything else, you might get all the women in the neighborhood, or at least all who have husbands or sons who are in the habit of drinking or getting drunk, to see that no moonshine is made or kept in their homes, and that no one comes around passing it off. Don't waste your time worrying about it, get busy and clean things up yourself. You can do it if you think you can.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please give me the address of Juanita Hamel, an artist for the Portsmouth Sunday Sun and Times.
YAYONNE
Address her in care of the New York American, New York.

Dear Dolly—I have been going with a boy for almost a year, although neither of us are very old (he is 16 and so am I). What would you think would be nice to give him this coming Christmas? He has most everything he would want. Should the boy do the planning for what to do on different occasions, or should the girl plan what she should like to do? What do you think of a boy who never plays anything for the amusement of his girl friend? Do you think that it is too young for a girl to go public places (such as theaters) with a boy?

BROWN EYES
Send your boy a Christmas card. You are too young to "keep" company, and you are too young to go out at night with boys. Your mother should plan your amusements.

Dear Dolly—What is good for laziness. I have a lazy sister who is too lazy to get up in the morning. What can I do to make her get up?

NE WIDOWS READER
Turn the hose on her or put a piece of ice down her back.

Dear Dolly—I have been in trouble and put up a big bond. How would you consult with me to get my money back or part of it back.

BLUE EYES
Would advise you to consult an attorney. Since I do not know what kind of a bond you put up or what you put it up for, I cannot answer your question.

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR

CHAPTER XXXIII—THE SECRET OF GREAT SUCCESS

I DISCOVERED the secret of greater success—if it were mine the evening I watched myself in "Blended Love."

I must make my audience feel. And I did not make them feel, if they were attracted only by my looks, my charm, my manners, my gowns, my youth. Many a movie star depended on those items of personality and was satisfied with the result. I realized that I had not succeeded unless I made my audience laugh and weep, unless I made my public run the gamut of the emotions which were animating me.

Watching oneself in the movies is an embarrassing occupation, but one designed to humble the conceited. The criticisms of strangers help an actress far more than the commendations of friends.

"Too smooth! Too pretty! Too sweet! Too easy!" That was the criticism, overheard by chance, which helped me most. It showed me that I had played all around my part, I had not aroused a particle of deep feeling in those who saw the reel.

I told Nandy about my plan for development and improvement, and he and Mrs. Nandy went up in the air with enthusiasm.

"To the Sarah Bernhardt of the films!" Nandy drained a mock toast to me. "Then he groaned, 'If it only you could see the right scenario!'"

"The right scenario!" That is the dream, the quest of every movie star. I was always making up scenarios to fit myself. Every star does that. I fancy, but we never get time to put them into a story, nor to detail a synopsis of them to the company's scenario editors.

One feature of my pet scenario was the lack of subtitles. That, also, is the dream of directors and producers. The demand is for the story which shall tell itself without leaders, or subtitles, or intermissions, or interjections, or visions, or cut-ins.

To write my own plots was the hope of my life, a hope never to come true, if the publicity department continued to eat up my spare minutes with new stunts. The most exhausting of all the publicity stunts was posing for the fashion-makers. And it was unromantic except as it made for popularity.

But the most trying of all the publicity ordeals was stumbling, or appearing in person before a showing of oneself on the screen.

The first time I tried that, I was afflicted with stage fright. I had a nice little speech prepared. I had practiced it. I felt sure of myself. But when I reached the middle of it, I began to stammer, to blush, and to forget!

I wanted to run away. I glanced toward the wings, and there stood Dick Haines. By what mental telepathy Dick comprehended, I do not know. But he did comprehend and on the instant he proceeded to rescue me.

I saw him coming toward me. I held out my hand, he seized it, and jumped at once into his part. He took up my theme where I had left off, he carried it further, and then he summoned Cissy Sheldon from the other wing.

Cissy rushed on the stage, grabbed my left hand, took up the speech and finished it, and we three scored a triumph—where I alone had been headed for humiliation.

Once more, Dick had saved me. Once more, Cissy had contributed his bit of chivalry.

It was wonderful to have two men to rely on.

MOTHER!

Clean Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

Even a sick child loves the "Fruity" taste of California Fig Syrup. If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation, poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

IMPURE BLOOD DRAGS ON NERVES

A Course in Gude's
Pepto-Mangan Makes Blood Rich and Red

When blood gets thin and watery, clogged with waste matter, as it does when over-exertion and straining cause exhaustion, there is a drag on the nerves. The body becomes feeble because there are not enough red blood cells carrying oxygen to all parts of the body. The power of endurance is low and the slightest disturbance rattles the nerves. Everything and everybody is trying. Nothing seems to be right. Everything and everybody is really right, but the trouble is with weak blood.

One of the things people who take Pepto-Mangan notice after a short course, three times a day, steadily taking the liquid or the tablets—is the certain, if gradual, return to normal. Sleep refreshes and food restores the energy. Days are calmer. That is normal, healthy blood doing its work. Get Gude's Pepto-Mangan at your druggist. Look for the name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" on the package. Advertisement.

If Stomach is Out of Order —"Diapepsin"

Every one regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Diapepsin, and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief. This harmless antacid helps digest anything you eat and overcomes a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach in five minutes. If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion, get from your druggist a sixty-cent case of Diapepsin. There will be no more risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no gas or heartburn, no fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, no nausea, flatulence, or intestinal griping. Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any, that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this food fermentation, and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or indigestion. Advertisement.

Two Friends That Help Each Other

No Pay For This Work!

This Play Saved Yale From Whitewash

The boys at Yale are still trying to figure how Harvard beat their football idols, 10 to 3, when the dope forecast a result far different. If Aldrich, Yale captain, hadn't booted the field goal, as you see it in the picture, Yale would have suffered the ignominy of a scoreless defeat.

To Sink Or Not To Sink?

The West Virginia, superdreadnought, going down the ways at Newport News, Va., to dip its nose for the first time in the waters of the sea. If the plans of the arms conference carry, this ship will not disport itself on the waters for long. It'll go to the scrap heap.

COACH FRIES MAKES MANY CHANGES DUE TO INJURIES

Several men have been playing with injuries during the past two games, and this has kept them from putting up their usual game. Coach Fries has had his hands full trying to make the necessary changes without materially weakening his team.

Jimmy Gower has been having trouble with an injured knee and he was greatly handicapped last week. He will probably be displaced by Koege. Campbell will alternate his heretofore regular guard position with Moritz. Campbell's playing has been improving right along. This has been his first year at football and another year under Coach Fries ought to make him a linebacker that will be hard to beat.

Koege will alternate with Brant at fullback. Brant has been coming along in good style during his last two games and he surely will be heard from next year. This is Brant's first year at football.

The real finds of the year are Monk and Brock. Both these lads are swiftness and have the personal pride and spirit that has made them stars this year. When they appear on the gridiron next year they will be a pair of ends whose equal will be hard to find in any high school.

Cumfrie will probably start the game at half back. His last two games have been played at end and this should be an asset to him as a backfield man, for now he has experience of a Jordanian and knows what the line men are doing on each play. It will be a part of every backfield man's training next year to spend enough time on the line so that he will know exactly what's going on there.

Plan will probably not break into the game, due to injuries that he has had before entering school. He has not been able, due to this injury, to put up the game that was anticipated. Plan is playing his first year and should "find him" next year.

The game will be a fast one with Aquinas, due to their wonderful record of not one defeat. The heavy favorite, Coach Boland, has been very fortunate in having such wonderful material to work with and has taken advantage of this fact and produced a team that is the best that that school has had in years. In Aquinas' left half and right end, Boland has a forward passing machine that is a "corner." The official for tomorrow's game are Russell McCarty, Ohio Wesleyan man and Gilbert Micklethwait, Ohio University man. Both men are the type that call for a fast, clean game and the fans can rest assured that they will do all in their power to get you home for your turkey supper.

SELECTING JURY FOR BURCH TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, CAL., November 23.—Selection of a jury was scheduled to proceed with the resumption today of the trial of Arthur C. Burch, indicted with Mrs. Madeline Burch, charged with the murder of J. Belmont Kennedy, broker.

When adjournment was taken yesterday, the first trial day of the trial—the jury was not completed.

Preconceived opinions as to the defendant's guilt or innocence, scruples against capital punishment, willingness to give the defendant the "benefit of the doubt" so far as circumstantial evidence was concerned and whether jurors would require insanity to be proved by a preponderance of evidence, were involved in the questions asked prospective jurors so far.

The district court of appeal was expected to ask today on an application for a writ of habeas corpus filed in behalf of Mrs. Burch.

The Greatest Physician Of All Is Pure Blood

When the Foods You Eat No Longer Seem To Do You Any Good—Look For The Danger Signals Which Denote Waste Products In The Blood

How to Clear Your Blood of Waste Products

The blood is the means by which the quality of your blood by either directly or indirectly nourished. You will at once realize that unless the blood is pure, some part of the body will soon become diseased. Waste products in the blood are an element of danger. Ninety per cent of the people "below par" are suffering with waste products in the blood. When your blood is loaded with waste products, you become weak, nervous, irritable and easily upset. Other symptoms are pimples, boils, or some other skin disorder; loss of weight; and probably rheumatism. Your blood is your fountain source of energy—therefore keep your blood rich and pure. For over 50 years, thousands and thousands of men and women have relied on S. S. S. to clear their blood of waste products. S. S. S. will improve the quality of your blood by either directly or indirectly nourished. You will at once realize that unless the blood is pure, some part of the body will soon become diseased. The same qualities which give S. S. S. its beneficial effect in clearing your blood of waste products make it extremely desirable for keeping your blood in good condition. Get S. S. S. at your druggist, beware of substitutes. Write Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., 1173, S. S. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. for special medical advice (without charge). He is helping people every day to regain their health and strength. Ask him to send you his illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free. S. S. S. is sold by all drug stores.—advertisement.

Senate Expected To Pass Tax Bill Today

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 23.—The last legislative step in revising the tax laws will be taken by the senate before tonight. Debate on the tax bill was resumed early today under a unanimous consent agreement for a final vote at not later than 5:00 p. m. Immediately after the senate vote, the bill will be sent to the president and it will become a law when he signs it.

The transportation taxes and most of the so-called luxury taxes will go by the senate on January 1. The excess profit tax also will be repeated as on that date, but the corporation making excess profits this year will pay that tax next year. The higher surtaxes also are repeated as of next January 1, but the actual payments by the taxpayers in 1922 will be at the present rates. In many instances, however, there will be some changes in the amounts of income taxes through the changes made in the administrative provisions of the bill, which take effect when the president signs the measure. The only tax provisions of the bill, aside from administrative two months in the same jail and had features, which are retroactive, are $25,000.

Set Date For Ford-Newberry Case Vote

NEW YORK, November 23.—Four active members of the life, gratuity and pension fund of the Ford-Newberry case, who were among those who pleaded guilty last week to violating the Sherman anti-trust law, today were given jail sentences by Federal Judge Van Fleet, P. H. Noble, Arthur Shillstone and Albert Schalle were sentenced to four months in the Federal county (N. J.) jail and fined $500 each. Herman Petri was sentenced to two months in the same jail and had features, which are retroactive, are $25,000.

Give Your Dairy a New Start N-O-W! Feed Prices Are Down

Dairy prices are down—but so is the price on International Special Dairy Feed—so you may still feed it at the same good old margin of profit. Stay in the dairy business; feed International Special Dairy Feed now and keep on making money.

International Special Dairy Feed

is guaranteed to produce more milk than any other feed of similar analysis. Feed it as an entire ration or mixed with home-grown grains. "More milk, more money, and lower feed prices"—that's our proposition. Come in and let us show you what we mean it.

DO TELL, SMOKEHOUSE TEAM MAY FACE A CHARGE OF OBTAINING MONEY UNDER FALSE PRETENSES, SCRIBE SAYS

Get your evening laugh from the following bromide from the Tanktown Register:

Attorney Edgar Miller has been retained by the Ironton team to look after its interests and an action will be begun immediately to attach a prominent firm, a business institution of which Harry Deery, manager of the Portsmouth team, is a partner, and a suit will be instituted against him for damages as well as recovery of the money due the Ironton club, while the officials of the Portsmouth team may face a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, as legal lights outside this county are urging such action, the advice coming from Columbus, it is said. They played the game for the gate receipts, and if there was any breach of contract involved they assumed in such a breach the moment they sent their team on the field, responding to the referee's whistle. They played with the agreement that they were to receive a sixty per cent share of the gate receipts and Ironton officials did not acquiesce in breaking any portion of that clause and attorneys from surrounding counties are urging that action for recovery be taken.

Letters have been coming in to the Register from out of town cities declaring that Portsmouth has an established reputation for dirty dealings in athletics and urging the Tanks to go after the River Cities for back crookedness as characterized the despicable action of the management of the team. It was crookedness and there is no other word that will suit the case. The management of the Portsmouth football club deliberately appropriated funds to which it had no valid claim and if it persists in withholding the money thus obtained may be prosecuted. There can be no question about that and Attorney Miller made it plain that he will take summary action to recover within the next few days, after giving the Portsmouthists sufficient time to end down from their "ravenous" of Sunday.

Ironton News Is Heard From

Think goodness, there is one sheet in Tanktown that has sufficient backbone to admit that the Tanks requisitioned the services of three out of town stars to beat the Blue and White. Read what the Ironton News says:

It appears that Portsmouth did not play Ironton for the honor nor sport, but for commercial purposes and betting odds had been offered to Ironton sports two weeks before the game.

Any way to make a long story short, Ironton got 2 of the best players in this section, and went prepared to win the game, which they did.

We know nothing about the contract between the teams, except that Ironton was to get 50 per cent of the gate receipts, which the Portsmouth management refused to give. An attorney has been secured, and the case will be taken to court.

If Portsmouth had any kick on the players, they should have settled that before the teams signed the contract to play. Portsmouth knew that Ironton had stars, and tried to bribe these stars the day before the game, but they had confidence in their own team winning the game, and if they had not, nothing would have been said and all would have been O. K.

Under the circumstances, all neighboring towns should be warned of the unsportsmanlike methods used by the Portsmouth team, and if they play that team, what to expect.

When Portsmouth played at Ironton, Asland and Jackson, no questions were asked as to who was in the line up. It is professional football, and like baseball, any one who plays according to the rules is eligible to play.

Juniors And New Boston Hi Clash Tomorrow

Tomorrow at ten o'clock sharp the New Boston high school eleven will clash with the Smoke House Juniors on Millbrook park ground. The New Boston eleven will be bolstered for this game by the addition of Mays, Davis and King, three heavyweights on the team early in the season. Mays also played one game with the Smoke

House Juniors. With these three players back in the game New Boston has a well balanced team and one that will give the Juniors a hard fight. The school's line is light but they expect to make up for this in speed.

Couch Stivers of New Boston has been grooming his athletes for the last two weeks for this big game, the school receiving special permission to play outside the school eleven on Turkey Day.

The Smoke House Juniors are confident of victory since they won over the Ironton 140 champions, the Ironton Panthers last Sunday. The Juniors will use practically the same lineup as they did last Sunday against the Panthers.

dozen young men to the game. We feel sorry for the Tanks if they cannot get the revenue the two Portsmouth games draw each year. Without them the Tanks cannot pay their players and would have a team that would be within its sphere when playing Whitwell Panthers, Russell, Green, Gray, Ridge, Sedgwick, Hanging Rock, Coal Grove and Superior.

They forgot all about all the stars they brought up here last year, trying to top all the gate receipts. Now, boys, honestly, don't you think a dose of your own medicine is hard to take?

Sunday we returned the game and Ironton did what Portsmouth did last year. We got the best we could get, but Portsmouth couldn't see it that way.

Cut Portsmouth Off List; Says Ironton

(Ironton Register)
"Cut Portsmouth off the list" is the cry of local fans, who want good sportsmanship above everything else. They realize that a square deal cannot be obtained at the Chertleess City and want the Tanks to leave Portsmouth out of the local athletics next year. The management's action in withholding gate receipts that were earned, souring practically all the fans, both

Portsmouth and Ironton, on such tactics. Ironton's crowd went via automobile, traction and train, each traction crowded to its capacity during the morning hours. The train crowd was disappointing, but the fans found much easier and more convenient ways to get to the game. One truck belonging to the telephone company carried two

Why Tanks Came On The Field Late

In one part of the Ironton Register the scribe says Portsmouth delayed the start of the game so that darkness would prevent the four periods being played. Then the Register in another column sheepishly says:

The field and the game was opened at 2:45 o'clock, with Ball (Shannon) kicking to the Portsmouth goal line. As a matter of fact the Tanks came out late because they did not want any one to identify their players. There you have the real truth.

Will Some One Please Turn On Light In Old Lightless Ironton

(Ironton Register)
Who gave the Portsmouth football club management their masks, or did they have any?

"We're the best sports in the world when we win, but don't dare defeat us," is the slogan of the Portsmouth team, "or we'll make you walk back home." Nice gentle flock of little sports they have down that way.

Just before the battle, confident of victory and everything, both the end-nest Portsmouth Times and the just-nest Sun declared, "we will have no odds if we lose." Now old Al Jid is offering every sentence on the sport page. Hello, Al. Pleased to meet you!

Shockey Taylor is going to form the Volunteers' Club, with only Portsmouth players eligible.

Even Frank Pratt is "barned out" on the Portsmouth team now, and it is the first time that he has gone back on the old home town.

They, you see, says: Ironton's stars got $200, $200 and $150 each for back-field work and Bill Brooks gets the rest. Wonder how much was left after that $600 per game contest.

Dick McKinney is another of the good sports of the River City. Dick was holding a whole bunch of stakes and paid off. He said: "Why there could be no argument as to which was the winning team. Ironton outclassed Portsmouth. What's all the kick about?"

The Portsmouth team had a pretty triple pass and criss-cross while the team management worked a pretty double-cross.

"Ain't we the slick little slickers from the Sick Little City by the Wall that holds back the Flood," sing the Door-keepers.

team had a pretty triple pass and it was the best play they had, but it delivered out because too off repeated. Ironton had two new plays, brought from Morgantown by "Shorty" Davies and deflected into the Tanks Saturday afternoon and evening, and it was regretted that darkness fell too soon for the wearing down process was necessary before they were attempted.

The presence of "Shorty" Davies on the field was sufficient to throw a mighty chill into the Portsmouth eleven and spectators. He came only to give the plays that he had, and to assist Coach Wietzel and Scott in their efforts to trip Portsmouth and sent back to Morgantown well satisfied that his mission had been successful.

Fans remember last year how Davies stopped in his tracks when he was about to be tackled. Frosty Williams brought him down once and that was enough for Davies, who has a running lined stripe about a foot wide purling up and down his back.

Well, Well, This Is Just Too Cute (Ironton Register)
Ironton should never again play Portsmouth. Waverly, Chillicothe, Huntington and other towns have either cut her off or contemplate such action. Ironton always maintains a high reputation for square dealing in athletics. One sport writer has a letter from Waverly published in today's paper referring to Portsmouth.

Portsmouth newspapers justify the theft of money from the Ironton Tanks. We had hoped the news dunes would play square. Wietzel is coming here for a game this week and Ironton does not care who is on their team. We will pay the visitors what is coming to them.

Nomads Play Holy Redeemer

In Moose hall Saturday night the Holy Redeemer high school basketball team will play the fast Nomads and this promises to be one of the fastest games of the season as there has been keen rivalry between these two teams for a long time.

The Nomads with a string of 65 victories in the last three years will have Don Oakes, a new man at center.

This is the first game the Redeemer boys have played this year but they say they will give a good account of themselves. The Nomads will probably have only three regulars in the lineup as Ted Gordier is out with a sprained knee, and H. Gordier with a lacerated hand. Game will start at 7:30. Admission, 25 cents.

RIXEY SIGNS

Tricker Eppa Rixey is the first Red pitcher to sign his next year's contract. He was the club's best twirler last season.

Play Tomorrow

Tomorrow the Huntington high school eleven plays Greenbrier high school while Ashland plays at home with the strong Carletonburg eleven as his opponent.

TWO CRACK P. H. S. PLAYERS

Fullback Brant and End Brock of P. H. S.

These two players have been showing better form in the last two or three games than the first of the season. Brant, who was worked out at fullback at the start of the season was shifted to a guard position when Kogale, a more experienced player entered school and became a backfield candidate. In the last two games Brant has shown new life and is playing a grand game at the fullback position.

He has been going over the top of the line like the doughboys going over the top in France. Brock also started in the backfield at half back the first of the season but was soon shifted to an end position where he has been playing a bang up game, especially on tackling and breaking up plays. Brock is playing his first year on the team and has made good for his whole heart and soul has been in the game. He has tried hard and has been rewarded by being chosen among the regulars from the start. These two players are expected to do their share of the hardwork in Thursday's game with Acquins high of Columbus.

Games This Week
Wednesday, Nov. 23, High School Academy vs. Trinity Cubs at high school; umpire, Donald Phillips.
Thursday, Nov. 24, United Brethren at the Moose hall; umpire, Emil Hobbs.
Friday, Nov. 25, First Presbyterian vs. Court House at high school; umpire, Dr. Rapp.

The Phi Psi certainly hit their stride and headed for the top with all six cylinders snoring and the brakes thrown away when they met the Selby Vets and took three straight from them, in fair and open fight—a thing that has never been done since the Cubs pulled that stunt last winter. The Phi Psi were right upon their toes every second of the time, and the sight so astonished the Vets that they couldn't seem to get their bearings. Homer Selby was there with his "ball killing" just as usual, and Wiles served and played the best game he has put up for a long time, but the team was swept off its feet, the scores being 21-16, 21-10 and 21-13. To Bill Harris must go the palm of the evening. He played a crackerjack game, no matter where he was, and kept Selby did the same.

Phi Psi: Rea Selby, captain, Wm. Harris, Graves Williams, Forrest Williams, Geo. Pearce and J. Grece.
Selby Vets: Roscoe Donohoe, captain, Homer Selby, J. B. Wiles, Watson Goddard, Fred Glaser and Geo. Carmichael.

The First Presbyterian changed places with the Christian Colts when they took three straight last night from that jovial crowd by the scores of 21-13, 21-12 and 21-16.

Donald Phillips was the brilliant luminary of the game, killing the ball time and again, and was ably backed by his team mates. Chester Kerr and Nate DeLong did the best work for the Colts.

First Presbyterian: Wm. Hopkins, captain, P. Blake, Donald Phillips, H. Fortner, Walter Broadbeck and Chick Collins.

IT IS ALWAYS THAT WAY

PRESIDENT Harding is of the opinion that all subjects to come before the arms limitation conference can be disposed of one without the other, in other words that there is no inter-dependence between them.

Some of the self-esteemed "best minds" assembled at Washington do not all agree with him. These characterize the naval reduction program of Hughes as more of a play to the grand stand than anything else, and an absurdity as a proposal of priority. Naval limitation they say will settle nothing and in the long run prove a costly folly, if more essential things to peace are not rightly determined.

The smoldering volcano, they say, are the English-Japanese alliance and the ambitious designs of Japan in the east. War is likely to arise over either of these matters and then limitation will be proven a penny wise and a pound foolish policy. This is based on the assumption that America is set and will continue set on Japanese aggression upon China. No sober minded thought takes fear that Japan, under existing conditions, will make war upon these United States, but a class of professed statesmen, those who claim to look far into the future, claim Japan has dreams of world power akin to those of Germany and to that end she would absorb China and utilize her vast resources of men and material. For in both China is undeveloped. There is no coherence in her countless millions of people and her inexhaustible natural wealth lies untouched. A superior race could mold the first of these into a mighty war machine and the development of the others would furnish the material for its operation.

Perhaps, this view is right, but we prefer the course Harding outlines. The present has fought a burdensome war for the safety of the future. It is high time it was looking to itself and relieving of the burdens that oppress. Above all things the nations need peace and order. They are not likely to attain either, so long as they do not set themselves singly to that end, but continue to wrangle about the potentialities of an indefinite future.

THERE IS NOTHING LIKE IT

WHEN you set out to be pleased you are going to be pleased, there is nothing else about it.

The senate and the house have come to an agreement on a new taxation bill. When the measure was first sent out from the house the Republican organs sent up great peans of triumph over it, proclaiming the measure a masterpiece of legislation and wisdom. This ironical observer of the passing show then remarked those rejoicing were in proper form. For no matter what the house had done there would have been an equal amount of exultation, just as there would be when the senate got through with the bloody butchery of it. That has come to pass. Without the most convincing identification the house would never have recognized its own child when it got back from the senate, but after a minor operation or two it accepted the measure as its own and it will now become the law, with the organs jubilantly proclaiming what a lovely progeny it is.

At that though they are inwardly holding a rather uncomfortable feeling because the house broke away from both the leaders and gave President Harding a pointed rebuff by refusing to knock out a senate amendment that he had made a public and direct plea for.

That is shocking, but not half as startling as the vote of our own Charlie Kearns in repudiation of the President. Charlie who always heretofore has "voted with the party." Whither is the world going anyway?

Mr. David Lawrence says governments do not usually show their hands early in an international conference. If by that the gentleman thinks he has seen any real cards lain on the table at Washington, he is simply mistaken.

Distribution is what the country needs. There is a field, not more than ten miles from Portsmouth, with a thousand big yellow pumpkins in it, wasted, but there will be many a home in Portsmouth that can't be thankful for its Thanksgiving pumpkin pie.

There may be a better thought of England. Twenty thousand dollars' worth of Scotch whiskey has journeyed here along with its conference embassy.

Never can tell. They are going to have an honest election bill before the next Kentucky election, so it is said, and that's all.

Ulster will "suffer" none of her "rights," not even to let Lloyd George come over. Some people are never so happy as when they are making it unpleasant for others.

Just by way of not letting it pass by, we wish to remark that the cold wave which shivered all the rest of the country, Sunday, very graciously passed up Scioto county.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, November 23.—Irene Castle is dancing again in the grill of a Broadway cafe. For four years she has been in retirement in Ithaca, following her marriage to a young business man. Few will deny that Mrs. Castle and her late husband, Vernon, gave the dance craze its biggest impetus.

They caught a popular fancy and rode on a high wave to fame—Vernon the fair haired young Englishman, and Irene, the daughter of a New Rochelle doctor. Mrs. Castle was a fashion-maker not only for Broadway, but Fifth Avenue as well. She had a knack of wearing clothes as few women have.

When an attack of fever resulted in her hair being bobbed, the Castle Clip swept the country. It still finds adherents. But many doubt the wisdom of Mrs. Castle staging a Terpsichorean comeback.

The truth is that the public has tired of professional dancers. Maurice and Leonore Hughes, despite their London hit, are meeting with indifferent success. They appear in a musical comedy and at midnight at a supper club.

And whether has the wind blown Frisco? This Barbary Coast barber's sweep with his ever present cigar and grotesque gyrations was the rage, drawing a president's salary for honky-tonk gymnastics.

Dickson and Myson flared like a sky-rocket and are seen no more in the Cabaret Bell, although Miss Dickson is playing a stellar role in the London production of a Broadway play.

Harry Pilcer, an East Side boy, is running a supper club in Paris, following his sensational success as the dancing partner of the late Gaby Deslys.

The few cabarets that bravely stem the tide have done away with the "hostess" who was on hand to do a specialty dance and fox trot with patrons and for which the patrons found a charge from $10 to $25 added to their dinner check.

One of the handsome devils of the movies has long been addicted to copious draughts of brandy. The wear and tear has resulted in a palsied condition that makes him tremble like a leaf in the breeze unless he is well fortified.

The other day he was on location far down on Long Island and had neglected to bring his hourly stimulant. Camera men were trying to take a close-up of him and finally gave up in disgust because of his trembling.

One shouted to the director: "We can't take a close-up of this guy. He's got a permanent wave."

A group of intrepid hunters have left New York for Louisiana to kill bear, grouse, sparrows or anything. They will be joined by Harris Dickson, the author, who has a pack of trained dogs to lead the chase. In the party are Irvin Cobb, Robert H. Davis, Ray Long, Rex Beach and James Oliver Curwood. They appeared to be very eager for the hunt but those who know say the real object of the trip is to gather around the camp fire at night and listen to Cobb spill his inimitable yarns. Almost any one would go to Louisiana for that.

Now and then I have luncheon in a place frequented by harrising communists. It would be an ideal place for the realist in literature for the counter in a hurry speaks from the heart. Thus one hurried patron said to the waitress the other day: "I want some rice pudding in a hurry. The last I got here had a fly in it instead of a raisin. I don't know why I ever came back here."

The Highway Future

The distribution of $30,000,000 for highway purposes by the Federal government, soon to be made, with $25,000,000 available immediately for aiding states in their road building, is a significant piece of news.

The national government's participation in transportation has always followed the country's needs, and has always been followed by enormous development of the territory benefited. The control of river traffic and the building of the Union Pacific railroad and the later supervision of the rates and operation, are two instances. Now the highways of the States are to be nationalized.

As men living in the 60's who saw the completion of the Union Pacific in the 70's have since seen the United States covered with railroads, just as men living a hundred years ago saw flat lands and keel boats abandoned for steamboats that later plied all the navigable rivers of our interior, so will men now living see the Union become a network of well built roads on which will be a continuous stream of traffic, both freight and passenger, under Federal supervision.

It is as certain to come as the low beat was to follow the hot and lumber riffs on the Ohio seventy years ago. Young men of today will see the time when a hundred thousand motor cars will pour into the suburbs of Chicago from every part of the country for great events. They will see motor parties not only traveling in their private cars, but eating and sleeping in them with every necessary convenience. That is what the government is beginning to prepare for the vast highway traffic that is to come when our population increases from 55 to the square mile to an average of a hundred or more. The motor car is a time instrument of national progress.

The Unexpected Happens

Well, of all things, here's an editor's client up on a banker—an impressive denial of the usual. It's an authentic thing, verified by the court records at Sullivan, Ill., where a Chicago banker attempted in federal court to have a newspaper publisher declared an involuntary bankrupt. He failed, whereupon the editor sued for damages and was awarded $12,000.

Children from the esteemed country press may be anticipated. It has its troubles with the bankers. They are a hard headed lot, these bankers, as every country editor knows. All country editors are optimists, else they would not be what they are and in their optimism most needs often lean on bank accommodations. It must be said in justice to the better nature of bankers, that they appreciate the value of country papers to the communities.

Professional Jealousy

A remarkable case of hostility to a physician by four of his professional brethren has gone through Indiana courts. The plaintiff in the action maintained his charge that the quartette, after seeking in vain to have his license to practice rescinded, combined to drive him from the community by destroying his reputation as a doctor. He alleged professional jealousy as the cause of their conduct. The court awarded the persecuted man $63,000 damages, which must be paid by the plotters against his livelihood—a very substantial award.

The animosities which develop from time to time between physicians are intensely bitter and often scandalously mean and unrelenting, usually taking the form of accusations of malpractice and ignorance. We have heard men in the profession charge each other with murder and other hideous crimes. Lawyers seem to dwell together more amicably, possibly because they have frequent opportunity to vent their dislikes before juries.

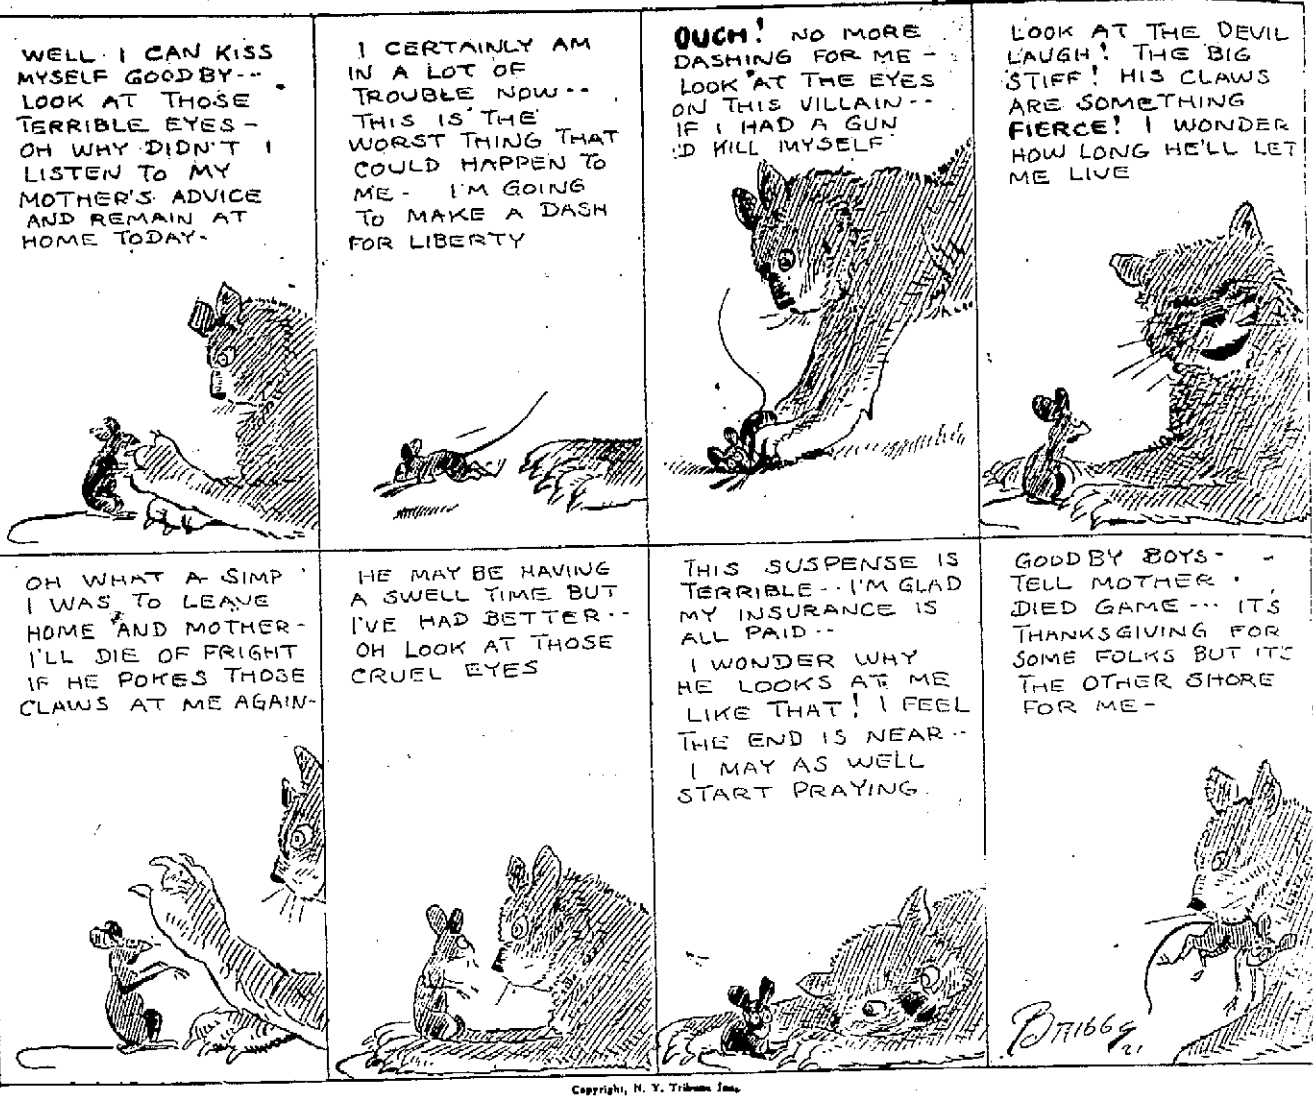

Holding Back from the Market

For higher prices may have the same result as holding wheat for $3 a bushel.

Looking Ahead

Not Worth It

Mr. McNab (after having his lease read over to him)—I will not sign that. I haven't been able to keep Ten Commandments for a mansion in heaven, an' I'm no gamin' the tackle about a hundred for two rooms in the High Street!—London Opinion.

"Has that orator an open mind?"
"No," answered Senator Sorghum; "only an open mouth."—Washington Star.

Wise Jottings

Never marry a girl named Ann: An's an indefinite article.
After all, there are but two classes of unfortunates in the world: those who are married and those who are not.
Heavenly without modesty is a scorn forever.
Anyway, a pessimist doesn't bore us half to death with his alleged jokes.
There is safety in numbers.
The more lady friends a bachelor has the more likely he is to remain a bachelor.
There is but one man in all the world that interests the girl who is in love. If all the others were to drop out suddenly she wouldn't miss them.

Should Cure Her

At a moving picture theatre a woman was reading aloud the announcements that accompanied the pictures, oblivious to the annoyance of those in her vicinity. Suddenly her voice slowly died away, and the crowd about her was convulsed with laughter as she read aloud from "Topics of the Day" films on the screen: "We hate to put ashes in anybody's ice cream, but deliver us from the woman who reads the moving picture titles aloud."

A Satisfactory Answer

The sweet young thing was being shown through a locomotive works. "What is that thing?" she asked, pointing with her dainty parasol. "That," answered the guide, "is an engine boiler."
She was an up-to-date young lady and at once became interested. "And why do they boil engines?" she inquired.
"To make the engine tender," promptly replied the resourceful guide.

A Question of Puffing

Towday—Do you often have to rush to catch your morning train?
